

Le Cuir a Paris

15/09/2015 - 17/09/2015

Paris - França

Paris is the authentic and permanent world capital of fashion. Brazilian industry entrepreneurs recognize that LE CUIR is an important channel of trends and launching of new products as well as the thermometer of the European market. Since it is the first fair of materials of the season, it marks the beginning of the development of international collections and participation is extremely important. Today, Brazilians are already a reference at the fair and our participation is literally mandatory.
