

MARMOMACC - VEONA FIERE

27/09/2017 - 29/09/2017

Verona - Itália

This is an ornamental rock trade show that takes place in the city of Verona, Italy. This event, which is similar to Marmomac, showcases both national and international production practices and innovations, international projects, and initiatives promoting the special characteristics and richness of natural stone. The event also promotes the potential of stone materials in the architecture and design industries, as well as the potential of the natural stone industry.
