The AHR Expo México is an important trade show for the Heating, Ventilation, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration (HVACR) industry in Mexico. The number of visitors and exhibitors has increased steadily with every edition, given that many countries seek to sell their products in Mexico. According to the program's team, which visited the trade fair in 2014, the event is large and well-located. It had an exhibition area of 74,000 m² (796,529 ft²) and included the participation of 7,696 visitors.
